GOOD BONES SYDNEY Australia | Perspective + Watercolor Sketching Workshop March 31 - April 1, 2017 | Sketchcrawl April 2

Good sketches start with Good Bones! In this hands on workshop, you'll learn how to set up the bones of a great architectural sketch!

Held in the heart of Sydney in the historic The Rocks neighborhood, this workshop offers two full days of a true instructional class on architectural sketching. The first day is devoted to learning the fundamentals of on-location perspective through demos, and sketching on site. Day two introduces basic watercolor mixing and technique. Both perspective and watercolor come together on day three when you join others to sketch on location in town.

GOOD BONES | Thursday, March 30 | 6pm | MEET & GREET (location TBD)

GOOD BONES Day 1 PERSPECTIVE | Friday, March 31 | 9am - 4pm* | Meet at the Museum of Contemporary Art

- Learn perspective basics and a simple step-by-step process to construct an architectural perspective sketch, how to build the sketch in layers
- Learn what to look for when starting your sketch -- how to find your eye level and vanishing points to provide the basic structure of any sketch
- Learn how to measure proportions and relationships of architectural elements

GOOD BONES Day 2 WATERCOLOR | Saturday, April 1 | 9am - 4pm* | Meet at the Museum of Contemporary Art

- Introduction to basic watercolor tools and techniques, using a simple palette of colors
- Learn how to use watercolor to enhance the sense of architecture and space in your sketches

OPEN SKETCHCRAWL | Sunday, April 2 | 10am-1pm | Meet at the Museum of Contemporary Art

- Days one and two come together as you put your new knowledge into practice joining other sketchers on location in central Sydney.

*One-hour break for lunch.

GOOD BONES SYDNEY is open to 12-15 participants with any level of experience, but it's targeted to sketchers who want to improve their basic sketching and understanding of perspective and watercolor.
